

Elizabeth Rozin has grown up playing and learning at NTTC. She has recently committed to play NCAA Division 1 tennis for Northern Kentucky University. This is an amazing achievement and took a lot of hard work and dedication to accomplish.

At the age of 4, Elizabeth began to play tennis. Throughout the following years, she continued to train and by the age of 11, she was ranked 12th in the country's U12 ranking. Shortly after, she suffered an ankle injury that kept her on the benches for three years. Eager to play again, she resumed her training immediately after healing. Being far below the levels of her peers, she continued to practice and work hard to make up for those missed years. This training paid off, as she claimed the U16 doubles provincials title in 2016. Her practices can be seen on North Toronto's courts during the outdoor season and with the immense support from her mom, Elizabeth has developed into a top rated junior player, with a U18 singles ranking of 70th in the country, and a doubles ranking of 30. She has also competed in the Canadian Nationals multiple times, reaching the quarterfinals in doubles.

Elizabeth will continue her tennis career at Northern Kentucky University this Fall. NCAA Division 1 tennis is a very competitive environment and we are very proud of her for all of her success.

Taylor Cheung-Damonte, a former junior team member at North Toronto Tennis Club is now starring for the Westmont Warriors a NAIA College based in Santa Barbara California. Taylor earned a scholarship to Westmont after leading Bettonville High School to the Arkansas State Championships in her junior and senior year. Prior to her family moving to Arkansas, Taylor won the Toronto District School Board City Doubles Championships playing on Court #1, where she was undefeated as a freshman and sophomore

Taylor's most recent accomplishment saw her earn a Golden State Athletic Conference player of the week award for her performance in both singles and doubles. Most importantly Taylor is also a star off the court scoring high marks in her academics. She is a Pre-Med student and is right now leaning towards a career as a pediatrician. Taylor was a popular and well liked member at NTTC. She always had time for everyone and participated in many club programs. Her success will hopefully inspire the present group of NTTC juniors to aim for the stars.
